The Book of Genesis

Chapters 23-24

Genesis chapters 23 and 24 present a very personal look at the family life of the patriarch Abraham. The narrative in chapter 23 describes Abraham negotiating for a burial site for his wife, Sarah, after her death at age 127 (23:1). In chapter 24 Abraham reveals his plan to arrange a search for a wife for his son, Isaac. These two chapters can be outlined as follows:

Abraham seeks a grave for Sarah. Chapter 23
Abraham seeks a wife for Isaac. Chapter 24.

While chapter 23 is a relatively short chapter (20 verses) which focuses primarily on the acquisition of land for a family burial site in Canaan, chapter 24 is the longest chapter in Genesis (67 verses). This chapter is described by one commentator as “A delightful chapter, charmingly written” and by another as “A touching love story of Abraham finding a bride for his son, and the bride’s willingness to leave her family and share her life with a man she had never met.”

1. There seems to be three main sections in chapters 23. After reading this chapter, write your own brief summary, in one or two sentence, next to each section.

(a) Abraham’s Tears (23:1-2)

(b) Abraham’s Testimony (23:3-13)

(c) Abraham’s Transaction (23:14-20)

2. What most interested you in this entire narrative in chapter 23? Note that eventually, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and their wives will all be buried in the Cave of Machpelah near Mamre in the land of Canaan.

3. In chapter 24 Abraham commissions his trusted servant (perhaps Eliezer of Genesis 15) to journey to his homeland and identify a potential bride for Isaac. Read 24:1-9 and write some of the conditions and details of this charge.

4. Read the narrative in 24:10-14, in which the first stages of this trip are described. If the servant travels in a straight line to Ur of the Chaldeans (modern day Iraq) it is a 1200 mile round trip. What occurred in 24:12-14 and what does this suggest about the servant?

5. Read 24:15-16 and see if you can determine the familial relationship between Rebekah and Isaac. You might need to read 22:20-23 for additional information. Is this a wise plan put forth by Abraham? Describe Rebekah from 24:16.

6. What happens in 24:17-33 and what are your thoughts regarding this passage? How does Rebekah's brother Laban respond to this entire situation?

7. While sitting around the dinner table, Abraham's trusted servant presents the entire plan in 24:34-48. How does this servant graciously refer to God as being the one orchestrating this journey? What occurs in 24:49? How does Rebekah respond in 24:58?

8. Describe some of the interesting details of their return pilgrimage in 24:59-61?

9. How does this touching, Old Testament love story conclude in 24:62-67 and what are the implications in the overall story and plan of redemption in the Bible?
